Work Places

Ergonomically designed work place with paternoster for buffering of carriers.

The work place is equipped with a table that can be turned manually. Here, the angle of the working level may be adjusted individually.

Simultaneously, the inspection result from the AOI system which is integrated in the manufacturing line is displayed on a monitor for each solder joint of the assembly that is currently returned to the work place.

In height adjustable work place with swiveling table for ergonomic assembly and repair of boards. The unit is equipped with a dual conveyor and cross transfer.

This work place is installed directly in front of a selective soldering system, thus realizing a lean concept with circulation of carriers.

Automatic production line with various work places which individually can be adjusted to the person who is currently working at this place.

Delivery and return of material is handled at different conveyor levels.
